3. I make it clear that the material herewith served in each of the categories below is made available to provide an understanding of the breadth of potential evidence. It is already in the public domain. A limited number of examples from the material served herewith will be relied upon by the defence in the presentation of its case, and will be duly identified. As however these examples will be drawn from a far larger body of material it has been considered appropriate to provide an indication of that which is available. It is hoped that produced for that purpose, it is done so in a format that will make it easier for those who wish to access that larger body to be able to do so.
4. In continuation of volume L1 and L2; examples of:
